

Cindy is a Founding Partner and Chief Investment Officer of Ligo Partners, a single family office based in Miami which invests on a direct-to-cap table basis into venture/growth tech companies with an important selection criteria: the deal is led by a top venture capitalist or a strategic family office. The Principal of the family office was a tech operator and investor and established his family office post several exits in the tech space.

Today, Cindy sits on the Board of the American Society of Appraisers (ASA) and is an active private investor in real estate and disruptive privately held tech companies (Series C+).

Cindy is a valuation specialist by trade with expertise in financial modeling across complex capital structures of various industries including, but not limited to, technology, life sciences, real estate and energy. She spent the past 10+ years building quantitative models for Family Offices and Private Equity Funds for M&A, litigation, financial reporting, compensation and tax purposes, and leading the Valuation Department of Valora Partners with offices in Miami, Florida and the Cayman Islands servicing large family businesses, institutional investors, trusts, multinationals, operating companies and private individuals. Prior to Valora Partners, Cindy was a Valuation specialist in the Portfolio Valuation Specialist Group at PricewaterhouseCoopers in Manhattan, New York, where she serviced a broad range of clients including Goldman Sachs, JP Morgan, Bain Capital and Prudential, valuing traditional alternative investments as well as then VC-stage investments such as Airbnb, Uber or Palantir Technologies.

She received her M.B.A. in Investment Management from Pace University, New York, in 2014. Prior to obtaining her M.B.A, Cindy studied in Geneva, Switzerland and obtained her Master's in International Relations from the Graduate Institute of International Studies, as well as her Bachelor's in Economics and Social Sciences from the University of Geneva.

Cindy is fluent in seven languages, including French, Spanish and Italian. She is a natural connector and enjoys hosting gatherings for her Family Offices acquaintances, traveling and continuously learning.
